Foreword

When Michelangelo painted the creation of man on the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel, he depicted God the Father reaching out to touch the lifeless hand of Adam. The living, powerful hand of God thereby communicated life to Adam and to his posterity. This bestowal of bodily life was accompanied by the more wondrous and gratuitous act, that of conferring on man a share in the very life of God, sanctifying grace.

Throughout the pages of the Old Testament we see God reaching out to touch man's intellect with the light of His divine revelation; and with the Incarnation, Christ, the Son of the Father, brings to man the fulness of life. The Church, which is Christ, continues to communicate this deposit of Faith.

This being the Church's task in the world, education is a vital part of her divine mission. To the souls under her care she unfolds the unchanging truths of God. For those outside her fold, she prays and works that the light of Truth may be accepted by them. Ever conscious of this duty, the Church has convened the 21st Ecumenical Council, the Second Vatican Council. The primary purpose of this council in the words of Pope John XXIII is "that the sacred deposit of Christian doctrine should be guarded and taught more efficaciously."

Man's progress in technological advancement can create a society in which he will rapidly lose his humanity because of his inability to believe. Catholic education must, by a steadfast presentation of the objects of the sciences, that make the mysteries of Creation and its Creator the ultimate aim and purpose of man's intellectual achievement. The horizon of man's learning capacity only recedes with his greater and more profound understanding of the mysteries of nature, and its perimeter must be the sublime realization that the things he discovers are as they are because eternal Truth has created them so.

Dedicated to the Memory of His Holiness Pope John XXIII

The faculty and students of Monsignor McClancy Memorial High School humbly dedicate this 1963 McClancian to His Holiness Pope John XXIII in grateful acknowledgment of the Christian example and inspiration that he has bequeathed to all humanity

As Supreme Pontiff, he extended himself beyond the five hundred million Catholic souls in his care unto the whole family of mankind. As Bishop of Rome and as the Servant of the Servants of God, he went out seeking his flock in homes, hospitals and prisons. As Good Shepherd he eased many of the old tensions that have disrupted Christianity. As universal Pastor, he engendered in our world a sense of the brotherhood of all men under the Fatherhood of God. As Holy Father, he continued as his predecessors to bring the Christian message through modern communications into the homes of the sons of God. As pilot of the Bark of Peter, he guided the Church through the narrows of modern evils, communism, materialism and atheism. As Descendant of the Apostles, he unsheathed the sword of Paul and convoked Vatican Council II in an attempt to cut away all that separates souls from Christ. As Pope of the Council Renewal, he would leave to his successor the Bride of Christ "without spot or wrinkle."

But as an optimist in a world threatened by nuclear annihilation, he leaves us his dearest legacy in prescribing the only remedy for this world's troubles. For to anyone broken in spirit who came to him complaining about the inroads of materialism or the corruption of society, he replied with Christ: We are the light of the world. Our light must shine so brightly before men that they can see our good works, and glorify our Father Who is in heaven.

Pope John XXIII

Second Vatican Council

"In calling this vast assembly of bishops, the latest and humble successor of the Prince of the Apostles who is addressing you intends to assert once again the Church's magisterium (teaching authority), which is enduring and continues until the end of time, in order that this magisterium, taking into account the errors, the requirements and the opportunities of our time, might be presented in exceptional form to all men throughout the world."

"Illuminated by the light of this Council the Church. We confidently trust, will become greater in spiritual riches and, gaining new energies therefrom, she will look to the future without fear."

"The Church has not watched inertly the marvelous progress of the discoveries of human genius and has not been backward in evaluating them rightly. But, while following these developments, she does not neglect to admonish men so that, over and above sense perceived things, they may raise their eyes to God, the Source of all wisdom and beauty."

"The greatest concern of the Church is that the sacred deposit of Christian doctrine should be guarded and taught more efficaciously. That doctrine embraces the whole of man, composed as he is of body and soul. And since he is a pilgrim on this earth, it commands him to tend always toward Heaven."

From the speech of Pope John XXIII at the opening of the II Vatican Council

*His Excellency
Most Reverend Bryan J. McEntegart*

Two years from now more than 13,000 Catholic teenagers will be enrolled in six new diocesan high schools.

Until Bishop Bryan J. McEntegart first proclaimed an ambitious building campaign for the Diocese of Brooklyn in January 1960, no one had really gauged how deeply Catholic parents felt the need for more Catholic high schools. Parishoners in Brooklyn and Queens then responded magnificently, often with doubled and tripled pledges, and have practically doubled the $20,000,000 originally planned to $36,700,000.

This past school year four new high schools—Bishop Ford, Nazareth, Christ the King and Bishop Reilly—joined Bishop Kearney and Mater Christi High Schools and opened their doors to the sons and daughters of these parishoners. May there be many more schools to follow!

FACULTY

With the primary aim of the present Vatican Council being the more efficacious teaching of Catholic dogma, the dignity of the Catholic educator is spotlighted. At McClancy, Brothers of the Sacred Heart and laymen work side by side to form young Catholic men. Both, while following different paths to heaven, are united in their purpose of giving the students at McClancy an education second to none. This Christian training will serve as a basis for making a livelihood in this world, and for giving the students a Catholic perspective on their purpose on earth—to be united to God after a life in the service of their neighbors.

Brother Reginald, S.C.
Principal

Dear Graduates:

You have experienced during your youth one of the outstanding religious events of the century—the convening of the Second Vatican Council in Rome. You have also witnessed locally one of the greatest demonstrations of Catholic beneficence—education—the creation of six diocesan high schools. In both instances, the goal is the spreading of the word of God. However, do not lose sight of the fact that your parish is the fountain from which you immediately receive the benefits of the Church.

As you peruse the Pope McManis, you will note with delight the featuring of many of your parishes. Be proud of your allegiance and determine to give generously of your time and efforts to insure a more active and God-fearing parish.

It is a great pleasure to extend to you in the name of the faculty the heartiest congratulations on your successful completion of high school. God bless you and take care of you in your future endeavors.

Yours in the Sacred Heart

SENIORS

The departure of a graduate is not a venture into the unknown. Though he treads the halls on a strange site, he cannot fail to note that somehow the atmosphere is the same. Nothing is new, but the old becomes developed, refined, and perfected. Careful guidance and direction in the truths of our Catholic faith garnish his progress in knowledge and science, wisely ministered by men of God and learning.

The college, the university, is but another milestone to eternal happiness which he can attain by acquiring the habit of giving greater glory to God by an unselfish abandon to the advancement and benefit of mankind.

Recognition of our friends

Memories '59-'60

Remember the first time we met in the library

Remember how we used to meet in the library

Remember the first experience at leadership in the Confirmitry

The courtiers amused the king and the audience in the first show

Memories

Remember the thrill of receiving a reward for a hard won victory.

The action was slow without a tension break.

'60-'61

And here we were quick to respond to a history question.

Remember how enthusiastically we prepared for our Crusade to victory for the coming year.

Back for another bell victory.

Is this what we look like three years ago?

Perfect form scored in McCann's layup basket

Prayer during sports events was hearty and roused among the student body

Only only, friends, the McCann Talent Show is a big success!

Memories '61-'62

In just a few seconds, look at the progress of the new building

Dancers take a break to honor guest singer

Class representatives proudly accepted the Golden Goblet in behalf of their class

UNDERCLASSMEN

The students at Monsignor McClancy High School represent 117 parishes.

In this Underclassmen Section are featured the thirteen parishes which have the greatest number of students at McClancy.

Parishes within the bounds of the map and represented by at least ten students are located and named.

The 1963 McClancian wishes to pay a special tribute to all the pastors, curates and faculties of the parishes who have laid the foundation upon which McClancy builds.

CORPUS CHRISTI

Two years ago Corpus Christi Parish was a little New York town, and in 1890 the school, rectory, convent, and auditorium were completed. Through the school there were six hundred and sixty board students. While the Dominicans care for the pupils of the school, the spiritual and physical education is entrusted to the parish. Reverend John H. Murphy, ably assisted by the Reverend Thomas J. Lyons, and Reverend Anthony J. DeLuca.

OUR LADY OF FATIMA

Our Lady of Fatima, located in Jackson Heights, was founded in 1908. The pastor is the Rev. Howard McMoran, Rev. Henry Cukin and Rev. Olaf W. Because of its proximity to McManey, this parish claims the most number of students in the school. Its grammar school enrolls 900 children who are taught by the Grey Nuns of the. During the fifteen years of its existence, the church has progressed from the humble beginnings of offering Mass in a service station to the modern building dedicated two years ago.

ST MARY HELP OF CHRISTIANS

St. Mary's Church, administered by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Peter W. Fox, with the Rev. attendants Martin R. Weisenfeld, Vincent J. Gannon, and Kenneth E. Korman, was founded in 1854. In 1888 fire struck and the parish buildings were destroyed. In 1954 St. Mary's Church celebrated its Centennial Anniversary. Four years later a new church was dedicated. The Dominican Sisters of Amityville have been in the parish since 1869. Present school enrollment is 1141.

ST. SEBASTIAN

St. Sebastian's, founded in 1894, is capably governed by its pastor, Rev. Edward Lodge Curran, with the assistance of his curates: Rev. James F. O'Leary, Rev. James E. McInerly, Rev. Arthur W. Pote, Rev. John C. Curran, Rev. Michael Eubert.
St. Sebastian's is one of the largest parishes in the diocese, having a school enrollment of about 1360 students. An interesting fact about St. Sebastian's is that the present parish church was purchased and converted to the present parish church in 1955.

ACTIVITIES

From the Middle Ages, the region has been forested and its extensive forests have been the fruit of a subtle but constant fire. There was not a single spot of a forest with a complete canopy forest and a lot of Pinus with the presence of Quercus and Castanea.

A recent McClatchy-McGraw-Hill School of Business polled this curious image in its 2000 survey. While it is not a scientific survey, the results paint a stark character that religious organizations know better than to contradict. It plays a well-balanced portrait, the goal of a complete but candid, honest and persevering self-behavior and a high ideal.

McClancy debater defends his argument

The first varsity debate tournament of the year was held in Jeffersonville, New York. It was here that McClancy had its most successful year. At Georgetown, Washington, D.C., Paul Wakeford and Frank Alneri won fourth place in this nation-wide contest among 118 schools. Wakeford also won an award as seventh best speaker at the tournament. At St. Peter's College in New Jersey, our team won fifth place, one step away from another school trophy. At Columbia University, Wakeford and Alneri repeated their success and won awards as sixth and seventh best speakers, respectively. At N.Y.U., St. John's University, and the various league contests, McClancy proved it could hold its own and fared very well.

McClancians Top City Speakers in Oratory. Dramatics

In the recent Catholic Federation League competition at the Mount Royal Hotel, Basil Bliss and Kevin Gardner took first place in oratory and dramatics respectively. A day later Bliss won first place in the Catholic War Veterans Dramatic Contest for Brooklyn and Queens.

The speech contest under the direction of Mr. W. J. Keane, comprises in three different fields: oratory, dramatics and extemporaneous speaking. Oratory is the delivery of an oration either written by the speaker or selected from another source. The interpretation of a selection from literature is the aim of dramatics. Finally, extemporaneous speaking is the delivery of an address on some topic without any previous preparation.

Glee Club

McClure can be justly proud of the progress the glee club has achieved this year. Beginning its program by singing at the drama club's production of The Little Indians, the glee club went on to sing at Dante's, at Coer Hospital and at Goldwater Hospital. However, its best performance was witnessed at the annual talent show in March.

The future looks even brighter for the glee club. Besides the increase in membership, superior tone quality in singing is being secured. If development continues at its present pace, the glee club will sponsor both a concert and a musical next year.

A \mathcal{C} is maximal if for any $\mathcal{C}' \in \mathcal{C}$, $\mathcal{C} \cup \mathcal{C}' \neq \mathcal{M}$. We can prove that in the lattice \mathcal{L} of \mathcal{C} by induction. In each step of the induction, \mathcal{C}_i is maximal w.r.t. \mathcal{C}_i .

Cross-Country

The McClaney varsity cross-country record time stood at 14:31 before the start of the 1962 season. That time was bettered this past year by no less than four varsity members: seniors Rickv Urbina and Bill Marshall; juniors Marty Farrell and Jim Michelini; with a fifth member, Bob Connolly, just missing the old mark.

Week after week Rickv Urbina led the Crusaders in setting new record times. He now holds the record at 13:42.

Under the capable coaching of Mr. Harry Howell, the McClaney team finished no lower than eighth place in any meet. The best team effort was third place in the Private School Championships.

Coach Howell looks to members of this year's junior varsity team to bring the Crusaders closer to the top.

The freshmen, under the direction of Brothers Stanislaus and Xavier, won the greatest number of medals of any McClaney frosh team.

Track

The Crusaders' '62-'63 indoor track season was the best to date. Our national champion Rocky Urbana was undefeated in six major meets and set meet records in five of these. Also, the McClancy cindermen under Coach Harry Howell had not only the best 800-relay team, but the best team in this division in Catholic high school competition. This team consisted of Tim Kelly, Roger Roth, Bob Tassie, and Walter Campbell. Tim Shannon replaced Campbell when the latter pulled a muscle.

The future track hopes of McClancy look bright. This year's freshman team broke the school records in the mile relay, half-mile, quarter-mile, and 100-yard dash. Larry Guise, Andy McGrattan, John Brandeis, Bob Springer, and Larry Mazzarella led the assault on the record books.

Finally, the team efforts of the varsity, junior varsity, and freshmen gave McClancy two second place trophies.

The Crusaders emerged a respected team at the end of last year's spring season. Mr. Vernon Bauer guided the team through a 7-7 season.

This past fall a young varsity team captured second place in the CHSAA fall season with a 5-2 record.

Bob Desposito, Tom Raleigh and Richie D'Elia, each of whom pitched a shutout, gave McClancy a strong pitching staff last fall. Dan Coleman and Vincent Mone provided the Crusaders with a strong double play combination. These factors together with the improved hitting of Jim Melanson, Jerry O'Neill, and Don Holden will make McClancy a strong contender for the sectional championship this spring.
